Dear Sir:

When you visited us in Toronto you asked us to let you know if we had acquired any rare coins.

A customer of ours has sent us an 1875 plain U. S. $2½ quarter eagle. The coin has some of the lustre of the original proof but because of a slight edge nick, (no wear) and a mark on the face between the 7th and 8th stars, we are calling it* EF condition.

If you have anyone interested, would you let us know about what price you could pay.

Are you prepared to discuss the sale of your gold coins? I found that the prices named by you are not realistic, and represent actual retail prices allowing us no leeway for profit.

I can probably use all of your material if you are prepared to deal with us on a "down to earth" level.

Dear Stan:

I have received your registered letter of May 13 with the 1827 $2.50 gold piece enclosed to me at $775, which you describe as VF. The obverse shows a lot of wear. However, the reverse is in much better condition. I would have much preferred a coin in better condition than this one. However, since you have mailed it to me, I will go ahead and keep it and am enclosing herewith my check for $775.

I want to attend the Metropolitan show, if possible, as well as the A.N.A.

If you purchase the set of $2.50 gold pieces, I hope you can make me an attractive price on the 1864. I would not be in position to buy at this time any of the high priced items like the 1841, 1854-S and 1863 $2.50 gold pieces, as I have not fully recovered from my payments of income tax.

I have not made much effort to buy the 1920-S in $10 and $20, as there were so many of these coins coined. Some may turn up in Switzerland or other places.

A little later on, and after my bank account builds up some, I will try to take on a few of the high priced ones. I will also get up a list of ones needed.

With best wishes, I am

Yours truly,

Dear Stan:

I thank you for your recent letter quoting me prices on certain gold coins. I have not had an opportunity to answer until today.

I had made preparation to attend the A.N.A. in New Orleans but had to change my plan as my wife is ill. I believe you and Julian mentioned about attending. I hope you have a good time.

I would like to have some of the coins listed in your letter but I cannot reach the price. For instance, you ask $900 for the 1864-S, VF, $10 gold piece; the Redbook is only $425.

You may sell some of your coins at New Orleans. If you do not and on your return, please check over your list and see if you can make me a substantial reduction on the coins and I will try to buy some of them from you.

With best wishes, I am

Yea, Please let me know when the 1931-D 100 gold arrives. You can call me collect at my office at 212-350-8615 Mon-Friday.

I am very interested in buying expensive U. S. gold coins. I especially need better date proof gold coins. I will buy all gold rarities.

If you want additional references you can check with Mike Bromley. I have purchased many coins from him over the years, perhaps some gold from you?

Very yours,

Dear Mr Kesselman:

We could go on and on but I dont have the time, nor is it very profitable. I know dealers who have been in business for over 25 years and they still dont know how to grade a Lincoln cent. We seldom get complaints on our grading, nor do I buy at one grade and sell at another such as you implied.

You know what you own, and how and what grade it was when you purchased it, and I also know something of grading coins too. I stock VF $50 Slugs at $2100 and FINES at $1600, but Youngerman won't stock them even at $1900 as you ask him for the two pcs. Would seem he don't agree with the VF grade either.

No matter, I buy and sell the same grade, and bought a number of Slugs a full grade better than those two at dealers at ANA, all better, and all in the $2,000-$2100 area. I also feel nicks, digs, cuts, bangs etc also down grades a coin too.

Paying $185 for strictly XF type 2 gold $1
Paying $2100 for real VF $50 Slugs, and FINE pay $1600, XF pay $2500 to $2800

$4 stella in GEM proof pay $8,000 (No rub, no nicks, cuts or hairlines) and will take several. I wont call your PROOFS XF, unless of course they have wear, then what else can you call them?

I am still interested in buying the gold coins, but only if grading is correct with the coin, and the price is such I can stock for resale. I would not be interested in the other two Slugs at a VF grade as they wont make it, and that's clear just putting the two side by side.
Sorry we couldn't do any business..

Thanks

FJ

Dear Stan:

Enclosed are the $1 1879, 1880. Please note the marks on the 1879 are clash marks and not scratches (both obv. & rev.) Also on the 1879 the weak strike on LIBERTY on head band is characteristic of this coin according to W. Breen.

I ordered the $5 1864-S from Youngerman's ad in Coin World. but did not yet get it. You did not write me.

The $2½ 1887 in my ad was a misprint.
It should have been $2½ 1877.

Sincerely:

Dear Mr. Kesselman:

Thank you for your reply to our letter requesting references from you.

It is my policy to obtain references for sending coins out on approval to customers I have not done business with previously.

You probably purchased coins from my father who now lives in the Bahamas. I don't have his records as they were probably destroyed over the years.

Enclosed you will find two coins. After payment is received for these, I will send you some more.

My next ad in the Numismatist will feature five, ten and twenty dollar gold pieces.

I will be looking forward to hearing from you shortly.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN COIN COMPANY
